1. So to all the people far and near, we are truly grateful that you are all here, So do us a favor, open up your hearts, lend us an ear. See, we're on a mission, that's to lift your spirits up with cheer. Please clear your mind, it's time for us to rejoice. Hey choir, give these people a sample of our voice.

2. Okay, so now that we've agreed to leave all our problems at the door, our next mission is to see your smiles restored.
 You see tonight is the night we see what all the hard work is for.
 So hold on to your seats, pat your feet we're about to soar and I promise we're about to have a good time, that's for sure.
 Hey choir, give these people just a little bit more.

3. So now that we've got that understood, the choir's sounding so good.
 I think we should all just let the music take control.
 This is not a selfish mission. Happy faces is our goal,
 and if you dig deep down into your soul
 whenever you feel the passion just grab ahold.
 Hey choir, I think it's something we need to let 'em know.

4. You see tonight is the night that entertaining you is a must.
 And besides what better way to escape the holiday rut.
 Now love's in the air, and we invite you to feel the rush,
 so everybody, lift up your hands and clap with us!
